

American College of Radiology
Criteria and Procedures for the Award of Honorary Fellowship

1. Honorary Fellows are elected by the Board of Chancellors in recognition of preeminent contributions to the science or practice of radiology by individuals who by virtue of residence, education, profession, or lack of board certification are ineligible for admission as Members of the College in any category other than international.
2. Nominations are submitted in writing by a fellow of the College, giving in detail, the nominee's qualifications for the award, and must be accompanied by a detailed curriculum vitae or resume (preferably in English). In addition, there must be letters of support for each nominee from at least two College fellows. The primary nominator is responsible for initiating the submission of letters of support.
3. An individual fellow of the College can act only twice each year as a primary nominator or sponsor, i.e., as primary nominator for one individual and sponsor for another, or in either capacity for no more than two individuals each year. If a candidate is reactivated, a fellow is eligible to write letters of support for new candidate(s) as outlined above.
4. Members on the Committee on Awards and Honors, members on the Board of Chancellors, the Chief Executive Officer and staff of the College are ineligible to act as primary nominators or sponsors nor submit letters of nomination or support.
5. Solicitations for nominations are to appear in the ACR Bulletin and on the ACR web site.
6. Letters of nomination and sponsorship are to be sent to the Chair of the Committee on Awards and Honors in care of the College Headquarters before July 1; the submitted material then being duplicated and sent to the members of the Committee on Awards and Honors.
7. The Committee on Awards and Honors makes its recommendations to the Board of Chancellors. The method of voting and establishing the order of preference is to be determined by the Committee on Awards and Honors.
8. The determination of the award of Honorary Fellow from this list is by vote of the Board of Chancellors at its fall meeting. No more than three such awards may be made each year. However, in any year there may be fewer than three, or even none.
9. If the committee does not recommend a nominee for Honorary Fellowship, the primary nominator may request that the nominee be considered again the next year, with no additional supporting information required. Such requests must be received by January 15 for consideration the second year. If no such request is made, the nominee may not be re-nominated for a period of two years. If such a request is made, but the committee again does not recommend the nominee for Honorary Fellowship, the nominee may not be re-nominated for a period of two years.
10. The award is to be presented at the ACR Convocation.
