ACR Committee Member
Job Description

Purpose: Volunteers are integral to the success of College programs and activities as well as to the advancement of the field. This job description provides basic information to help guide you in your role as a committee member. For more specific information, please contact your committee staff member or committee chair identified below.

Description: Each committee member is responsible for actively participating in the Committee's assigned work based on the goals and objectives of the committee.

The Committee member:

- Is selected to serve on the Committee by the Chair of the Committee in agreement with the Chair of the Commission. These assignments are ultimately approved by the Chair of the ACR Board of Chancellors. Freestanding committee members will be selected by the Committee Chair and approved by the Chair of the ACR Board of Chancellors.

- Serves a term of one year renewable for a total of up to four years. Committee term dates officially begin June 1 and end May 31 although from a practical matter assignments may begin and end at the completion of the ACR Annual Meeting.

- May be assigned specific duties based on the committee’s goals and projects. It is important to keep the committee chair apprised of the status of assigned work on a regular basis.

- Actively participates in committee work and scheduled conference calls.

- Collaborates respectfully and effectively with other committee members.

- Is required to follow the ACR Conflict of Interest Policy, which requires annual disclosure, and updates when changes occur, of any relationships (financial or otherwise as outlined in the policy) that present an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest through the duration of their service as an ACR volunteer. The COI Risk Manager can be accessed to update your disclosure via your My ACR online account.
